

Hello,

I have been trying for years to apply for a Low powered radio license. I work for a small gang intervention/prevention counseling agency. The purpose of the radio station will be to let the "at-risk" youth at our after-school and surrounding community format and run their programs. These programs would represent them and their ideas. I spoke at the Fcc hearing in Monterey California in 2004. Our children are not being represented by Clear Channel in our area.

If granted a low power license, the radio project would be a true representation of a "community" radio station.
